INDIANA'S BEST WEEKLY

Nine Negroes In Trial For Olympics

RACE ATHLETES BID FAIR TO EXCEED LONG ENTRY IN '28

Entry List of Candidates Explodes Theory That Race Athletes Excel in Sprinting And Jumping Only

Nine Negro athletes are in line for berths on the United States Olympic track and field team, if performances so far at this stage are true indicators.

In 1928 DeHart Hubbard, former Michigan sprinter and broad jumper, was the sole colored track and field star to wear the American shield. He journeyed to Amsterdam, but failed to place in the broad jump.

This year Eddie Tolson, another Michigan sprint king, and Ralph Metcalf, Marquette sophomore, will attempt to win team places.

Tolson is almost certain of a berth in the 200 meters, having run 22.9 seconds.

Metcalf, 21-year-old Chicago Negro has twice this season run 190 yards in 9.5 seconds. He won the Drake Relay century in this time. His best time in the 200 yard event is 21 seconds.

America has a great Negro sprinter in the 1912-16 era in Howard Drew. In 1928 Jack London, also a Negro dash star, won second place in the 100 meters for Great Britain.

Negroes often excel in sprinting and jumping.

This year is no exception since George Brooks, Chicago university, already has made 25 feet in the broad jump and Howard Spencer, Geneva, has cleared 6 feet, 5.3 ins. indoors in the high jump. Cornelius Johnson, a Los Angeles high school jumper, has leaped 6 ft. 4 ins. and is improving with every meet.

Edward L. Gordon, former Iowa athlete, has a mark of 25 ft. 4 3/8 ins. to his credit in the broad jump and will enter the hop, step and jump tryouts.

George Williams, Hampton Institute, Va., tossed the javelin 205 ft. 2 3/8 ins. to win the Penn Relay event.

Wiry, little Gus Moore, Brooklyn Harriers, will strive to represent the U. S. A. in the 5,000 and 10,000 meters. He has a best time of 9:11.6 for two miles indoors.

Famous Pilots To Compete In Ft. Wayne Race

FORT WAYNE, Ind., June 5.—With five popular stars of the Indianapolis Decoration Day race already signed up among a field of well known A. A. pilots Indians point to one of the most colorful Race Programs ever staged on a dirt track here next Sunday, June 12th.

Howdy Wilcox, who finished second in the 500-mile event Decoration Day very few seconds behind the winner, will drive a Vance special. Gus Schrader, will be in a Miller. Bob Carey will pilot a Crag special imported from Los Angeles. Careys Crag special will be remembered by movie fans who witnessed James Cagney in the "crowd roars" on the screen. Billy Arnold drove the car doubling for Cagney. Ira Hall will pilot his new Single Seater and Wild Bill Cummings will wheel a Bowes Seal Fast. Among others will be Maurie Rose, who smashed his car in the qualifying trials at Indianapolis. Rose will drive a Howe Special.

The June 12th program will be the first race operated in this territory under the sanction of the contest board of the American Automobile Association. The program is scheduled for 2:15 (C.S.T.) with the time trials at 10:00 A. M. (C.S.T.)

JUNIOR, SENIOR CITY WIDE TRACK MEET

The city-wide track meet, sponsored by the Colored Men's Y. M. C. A., is scheduled for 2 p. m. Saturday, June 18 at Butler Field. Entry blanks are to be filed at the Y not later than June 15.

"Off to a flying start," "over the mark," "cleared the bar"—merely a few phrases of track meet language that will be used by the interested spectators at Butler field.

A hearty revival of both interest and achievement in this field of sport is highly expected, and even now, partially realized.

The scheduled events are the 100-yard dash, 200-yard dash, low hurdles, mile run, half-mile, (4-man) relay, running broad jump, high jump, and shot put. Junior events are the 50-yard dash, running broad jump, and shot put. First and second place winners will receive gold and silver medals respectively.

Officials for this occasion are John Shelburne, Emory James, Ed Gaillard, Ward Wilson, George Gray, Theodore Cable, Clarence Scott, and Earl V. Hord.

Normal is hteninth member of the outstanding Negro track fraternity, capable of winning a place. His time of 53.3 seconds in the 400 meter low hurdles, won the Penn Relay's championship.

ODELPHIANS, ENTRA NOUS, DOUGLASS PARK

One of the largest crowds ever to witness a semi-pro or independent baseball game is expected to be on hand Sunday afternoon at Douglas park, 2:30 o'clock, when the leaders of the Social league, Entre Nous, will meet the Odelphian aggregation, now in second place.

Last Sunday the El Amigos failed to check the hitting of Enright at the east side park and lost the slugfest, 16 to 10.

SPORTORIAL L

DARK SHADOW FOR MAXEY ON THE HORIZON

It has been said by the boys higher up in fistina that there would never be another black heavyweight champion of the world. . . . Well, maybe yes and maybe no. . . . You know this old "Repression" is having a lot to do with the bookings of the boys these days. Many states where mixed bouts were taboo have since changed the picture and to the betterment of the sale of tickets. After all, fighting is a money making proposition and if the fans want to see the picture in white and black. . . . that's the way it will be painted.

Thoughts of Jack Sharkey will not be all to perturb the mind of the present heavyweight champ, Mr. Schmeling, when he defends his title here this summer. Across the pond from whence he came, there is a dark hued 200 pound campaigner, now possessor of the heavyweight championship, of England, with whom it has begun to look like he must do business. Larry Gains, Canadian, is the man. In event you may have forgotten, back in 1925, this same warrior stopped the German. The first thing the wise birds will say is, Maxey is a much improved fighter since that meeting. Well, I grant that, but let's don't forget. . . . so's Gains. So it's only quite natural that Maxey was one of the most interested persons in the world last week when the news came across that Gains had decisively decided the giant Italian, Primo Carnera, spotting him 68 pounds. Since 70,000 turned out for this fracas, it's only reasonable to visualize enough fans on the other side to stage a heavyweight shindig, providing the promoters here are too hard-nosed.

CALVIN JONES LAID TO REST HERE

Fifteen years ago, an energetic and ambitious young trombonist left Indianapolis for Boston to join Jim Europe's traveling band of musicians. Almost immediately after Jones' arrival there, Europe died of knife wounds.

Cal, as he was called by his many friends, played in the orchestra with "Shuffle Along," "Dixie to Broadway," "Africana" and spent eighteen months abroad with Lew Leslie's "Singing the Blues." He also played at the Plantation club in New York, made famous by Florence Mills.

Last Saturday at the funeral parlor of Herbert C. Willis, loyal friends were paying their last respects to the memory of "Cal," trombonist par excellence. Floral tributes were many and beautiful.

It was a morbid prank of fate that led to a series of events climaxed by the tragic end in New York, Monday, a finale similar to that of Jim Europe fifteen years ago.

JACK THOMPSON HANGS 'EM UP

Boxing has lost one of its most colorful performers. True enough he was a "sometimer" but a favorite wherever he appeared. Give him the impossible and it would be done.

Young Jack Thompson, twice holder of the world's welterweight title, announced last Monday that he was all through with the boxing game.

Thompson fought last week against Leonard Bennett and won. He said he could see nothing in the boxing game for him in the future. He plans to devote his time hereafter to handling his property affairs in Los Angeles.

The Oakland ring star engaged in 327 fights in the fourteen years he was a professional boxer. He defeated Jackie Fields for the world's title the first time and later lost it to Tommy Freeman. Then he defeated Freeman to win back the title, but lost it to Lou Brouillard. Brouillard subsequently lost it back to Fields, the present champion.

FRITZ POLLARD STARS IN U. S. HIGH MEET

Due to a ruling of the IHSAA Froebel (Gary) high school, 1922 state champions did not enter the national interscholastic track and field meet Saturday at Stagg field. Several Negro stars were on the Froebel squad, coached by Carl Olsen.

The group was well represented however in the hurdles when Fritz Pollard, son of the mighty Fritz Brown fame a decade ago, romped to victory in both the 120-high and 220-loy hurdles. Pollard, from Senn high school of Chicago, was clocked at 15 seconds in the high hurdles and at 24.7 seconds in the low barriers.

The meet was won by Junior college Senior high of Arkansas City, Kans., 31 2-7 with points. Senn high was second with 20 points.

Crawfords Swing To Home State

PITTSBURGH, June 4.—(W.P.S.)—Completing their last Eastern swing in the first half, the Pittsburgh Crawfords will spend the following week near home. Each attraction is a headliner in itself, and it will be difficult to estimate which will draw the largest crowd. Indianapolis brings to Greenlee field a feud which had its inception in Indianapolis. It was in this series during a fast play on a steal to second that Jimmie Crutchfield and the umpire passed words and blows. Crawfords won the series, but only by consistent hustling and exceptionally good playing.

Jack Says There's No Romance In The Air

RENO, Nev., June 8.—(AP) All the mystery surrounding the identity of Jack Dempsey's pretty dark eyed companion disappeared Thursday when the Manassa Mauler himself disclosed that she is Lina Basquette, film actress.

"But there's no romance involved," he hastened to add.

Dempsey had been introducing Miss Basquette as "Rosita Gonzales," until publication Thursday of a Hollywood dispatch quoting a h's actress' mother as saying Lina was in Reno with the boxer.

"I like Miss Basquette a lot," Dempsey said, "and I think she cares for me, too, but there's no romance involved."

Miss Basquette came to Reno several days ago and will remain all summer, Dempsey said. She has rented a house here, he added, and expects to enjoy a long rest.

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES GET DIPLOMAS

Class Addressed By Dr. Rudolph Fisher In Cadle Tabernacle

One hundred and seventy-one Crispus Attucks high school graduates received diplomas at the annual commencement exercises in the Cadle Tabernacle Friday night of last week amid a colorful program befitting the occasion, with Dr. Rudolph Fisher, noted medical practitioner, scientist, orator and author as the principal speaker.

Declaring that "Handicaps often prove to be advantages if the individual takes proper cognizance of them," the eminent physician drew loud and appreciative applause in his talk described subsequently as he scored point and after quickly as a logical embodiment of logic.

To further emphasize his conten-ca by using well known cases as examples, ways in which inequalities exist socially, mentally and physically. "Regardless of widely accepted opinions to the contrary," said Dr. Fisher, "men are not all created free and equal."

Absolute Freedom Impossible
"A nation of free and equal people would be extremely boring. In any ordered universe, governed by immutable laws absolute freedom is impossible because there are certain things we must or must not do. Hence liberty is always a relative matter."

"There are great differences between men, socially, mentally and physically and in these irregularities are the seeds of advantage. Handicaps in one situation often may prove to be advantages in others."

Dr. Fisher concluded with the statement that "the earning of scholarship and attainment of high scholastic honors by members of The Attucks high school class were the immediate result of their taking proper cognizance of the handicaps presented by the establishment of the school."

He urged diploma recipients to refuse to accept without question all things which may be general-accepted as truth and to examine all matters personally in order to ascertain their truth or falsehood.

Diplomas Presented
Paul C. Stevenson, superintendent of Indianapolis public schools, presented the diplomas and Russell A. Lane, principal of the school, announced the scholarships and other awards and presided. A musical program was provided by the girls' glee club, the mixed glee club and the consolidated choir. The Rev. H. L. Herod, pastor of the Second Christian Church, pronounced the invocation and benediction.

Students listed in the upper tenth of the class scholastically were Alexander M. Moore, Melvin D. Harding, George Mae Broach, Cecil E. Dukes, Duane M. Harden, Clarence A. Lucas, Dorothy L. Perkins, Fannie M. Harrell, Edith M. Ray, Ruth G. Hamlin, Leonard D. Thompson, Elizabeth T. Thompson, Margaret L. Blakemore, James L. Simms, Wilhelmina Hill, William B. Ransom and William M. Myers.

HAWAIIAN HAIR SYSTEM OWNER ACCLAIMED

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 12.—Through the courtesies of Dr. Ida T. Love, president of the Philadelphia Association of Beauticians and Madam Sarah Washington, President and Founder of the Apex Hair Co., the superior merit of the Hawaiian System Finger Waving products was demonstrated Tuesday afternoon at the Phila. Beautician's Convention held at the Y. M. C. A. Building by Mme. Bramlette-Willis, manufacturer of the famous Hawaiian Hair Products.

The Hawaiian Finger Waving products are nationally advertised and used by leading beauty shops and schools throughout the country. These articles have been on the market only since April 1931 and have met with such public approval everywhere that special interest was shown by all in this particular demonstration. Mme. Sarah Washington is due commendation mention for her broad spirit in co-operating with Mme. Bramlette-Willis by giving over her booth for the demonstration.

Miss Lois Stewart, expert operator at the Hawaiian System Headquarters, Washington, D. C., produced a most beautiful wave on her subject. The outstanding features of the Hawaiian Waving products were plainly obvious to the large watching audience as Miss Stewart progressed in the operation of producing waves in pressed hair without heat. She used only the Hawaiian Waving cream, Brilliantine Oil, a regular marcel comb and her fingers. The hair absorbed all the materials used and did not need any artificial drying process upon completion of the waving. The hair was exceedingly soft and absolutely free from grease, gum, wax, excess oil or stickiness of any kind. The finesse of Miss Stewart's workmanship and the superiority of the Hawaiian System products won instant acclaim from everyone. We can now easily account for the constantly growing popularity of Finger Waving pressed hair "The Hawaiian Way."

Mme. Bramlette-Willis addressed the Convention and Association Members immediately after the demonstration. She and her party motored back to Washington, D. C., accompanied by Mr. J. A. Jackson, business expert of the Department of Commerce.

TIMELY INTERVENTION

The Supreme Court of the United States of America has decided to review the famous Scottsboro cases.

This means that the seven condemned boys will be granted a reprieve until after an opinion is handed down in the cases by the highest tribunal of the land. The youths will not be executed on June 24 because of their conviction of criminal assault by the Alabama court. They will not be slaughtered wholesale on the altar of rank prejudice born of race hatred, narrow contempt and groundless spite. At least not until the federal court has had its say will the cases be disposed of; a particularly fortunate circumstance, not only for the doomed youths, but for the group as a whole. Very fortunate also is the fact that there is such a legal haven as the federal court, to which all the people can go for protection against elements of injustice and organized hypocrisy. The people of the United States have just pride and confidence in their supreme court, and well they may; it is the greatest, broadest most unbiased, and creditable Democratic institution in the world. Upon it devolves the sacred duty of safe guarding against the constitutional rights of the people against such despotic abuse as has been meted out in the notorious Scottsboro cases. The consensus of opinion is that the cases should have been in the hands of the federal court long ago. We can recall no case that has had a miscarriage in the United States court. We are convinced that, if there is ever to be any fair play obtained for these helpless members of our group, that performance must be effected through the dignified intervention of the United States court. Now that the Scottsboro cases have reached that body, citizens of the greatest nation on earth are very rightly satisfied that right will prevail over misused might. The federal court can be depended upon to do full justice in these as it has always done in all other cases with which it has dealt.

HAND WRITING ON THE WALL

Prohibition looms unmistakably as a potential issue of the national campaign. That much is beyond a reasonable doubt. Like the many other equally weighty questions with which the nation is grappling, it is begging for common sense solution.

Leading thinkers of the nation are expressing themselves frankly on the much discussed question of prohibition. We note not with any degree of surprise, that president Hoover is not near as adverse as heretofore to giving the matter the serious consideration it deserves. Instead of diminishing, the demand for liquor is becoming more and more insistent. Some change in the prohibition law was never as essential as it now is.

There is the hand writing on the wall for every one to see. What it will mean for this country if the warning is ignored we are not in a position to say. But we are firmly of the belief that the present state of mind of the people as a whole is not very friendly to prohibition. We see that in the almost uninterrupted flow of bad liquor every where; we see it in the daily increase of crimes of the most revolting type; murders kidnappings, bootlegging, hijacking and other equally brazen encroachments upon the majesty of the law are every where in evidence. Something must be done to curb this spirit of law defiance; put a stop to this arrogant contempt for decency, on the part of the nations growing army of bootleggers, illegal rum dealers and their sucking puppies. The welfare of the country demands that some common sense step be taken for the inevitable purpose of permanently discouraging this vicious tendency to rape society, destroy civilization.

Prohibition so far has been a miserable failure. It is a shire waste of time, energy brain and money to try to enforce its provisions. The time to realize that inescapable fact is now. And lest we forget; promises will not effect the changes; the prohibition law must undergo some needed changes by congress. Not until then will we see any let up in the present deplorable conditions.

PROGRESSIVE THOUGHT

Leading thinkers of the race are unanimous in the opinion that our people should know vastly more about their government. The thought, apart from being a common sense one is as logical as it is substantially progressive. In the complicated business of living our daily lives few of us realize how dependent we are upon government and the degree of efficiency with which the affairs of our country are conducted. The fact that our laws are not only made, but are enforced by government is unknown to a criminal extent among elements of our group. Neither are we sufficiently cognizant of the extent to which our families, and our homes are protected by the government under which we live. There is one precious right inseparably associated with the system of our government which colored Americans should jealously cherish. It is that every citizen has a voice in government. When we travel at home or abroad, it is our government which looks after our safety; while the business which we conduct, our industry and commerce are all regulated and encouraged by Uncle Sam.

Of great significance is the circumstance that the education of our youth as well as the support of our schools is a stipulated requirement of our government. And for protection from disease, the purity of the food we eat, the air we breathe, the water we drink and for enlightenment in healthful living, we depend upon our government. It is of course highly desirable that these and many other little thought of facts about Uncle Sam's duties toward his 120,000,000 citizens should be far more widely known among members of the group.

Thoughtful citizens hold that the future of democracy should be assured by all means, and that we should turn back to fundamental principles and participate more fully and consistently in the practice of the science of government. In all of which we are heartily in accord; our people as a whole should be prevailed upon to learn more about the government under which we live. It will make for far better citizenship.

VALUE OF OPPORTUNITY

For most of us, the word OPPORTUNITY means next to nothing. The old saying has it that time is precious, and it is. Instead of utilizing it in trying to think and plan progressively and constructively for the good of ourselves and others as well we spend our time in merely living. It is well that one ask himself once in a while, "What have I done in all the years of my existence. Have I really done my best to take full advantage of the many opportunities left behind?" That is looking backward of course; with all the supposed helpfulness of the idea it is not to be compared to the wisely given advice to always look forward.

Looking back does absolutely no good; that is an established fact we can not afford to over-look. The proper thing for one to do is to address to himself the query: "What am I going to do with the many glaring opportunities that are literally spread out before me? How am I going to use the best advantage the next twenty-four hours; this and next week; this and next month and so on? How much can I accomplish now, next week, in the next twelve months? In sum, it is what one starts doing now that makes OPPORTUNITY count. We must drive the nail right today, not tomorrow if OPPORTUNITY is to mean anything to us. Discard the tomorrow theory. Do not leave for next day that which you can do TODAY.

THE AMERICAN FLAG

Next Tuesday, June 14, Flag Day, has ever carried the deepest meaning to every true American citizen. The day this year will carry a double significance because of the Two Hundredth Anniversary of the birth of George Washington. General Washington is credited with having taken a leading part in the very designing of the nation's flag. It is also true that what he did to give the flag meaning is and should be known to every American citizen as long as our country lives.

On June 14, 1777, Congress resolved: "THAT THE FLAG OF THE THIRTEEN UNITED STATES BE THIRTEEN STRIPES, ALTERNATE RED AND WHITE, THAT THE UNION BE THIRTEEN STARS, WHITE IN A BLUE FIELD, REPRESENTING A NEW CONSTELLATION." Thus authority was given the first President to design the American flag.

Flags have flown for vanity of Kings. They have been hated by millions of people, as representing conquest and oppression. It is known by the average school boy to what extent cruelties, prejudices and injustice have been forced on man by his human brother under the sanction of some similar national emblem. The flag that will fly from thousands of masts next Tuesday is the one given the American people by the father of the people by the Father of the Nation. It will continue to float as the banner of honor.

POLITICAL POINT OF VIEW

According to Howard Y. Williams, national director of the League for Independent Political Action, "our nation is moving in politics distinctly to the left, to the more progressive point of view."

From a "Survey of Western Politics" issued recently by the league and based on two months study in sixteen states and forty-three cities we quote:

"The state of Washington is unquestionably the most fertile state for a new third party movement. In Seattle the Unemployed Citizens' League, which includes over twelve thousand heads of families, together with the local branch of the League for Independent Political Action constitute a most important basis for action. In Tacoma and Yakima the Liberty Party has made considerable progress and would co-operate with other groups. In Bellingham the Equality League, having rediscovered Bellamy's writings, is exerting a powerful influence. In Spokane the Socialist Party has had a phenomenal growth and could probably be counted upon to federalize with other organizations in a state ticket."

CRUISING AROUND

By LEE JAY MARTIN

This is June and thousands of young men and women have finished their education, ready to step out on top of the world, so they think; but in reality the step is into a pit of tangled humanity—so much so, that it is beyond the power of mere man to untangle, even if there was any chance of untangling the mess. Their coming only makes the job bigger.

But some of these days, this annual June army of graduates will look before they leap, then proceed to devise ways and means to keep themselves out of the tangle of their ancestors. Thus, setting up a new social order for their future welfare and those who come after them, realizing that those who follow may want a chance.

While it is beyond the power of men to establish an everlasting social order, without adjustments being necessary, there is no need for the adjustments to be as severe as this present has been and will be. Man, in regulating his social order, should take lessons from the clock he invented. A clock runs 11 hours, fifty-nine and 59-60 of a second and returns to the same place at which it started. What kind of clock or what use would be a clock containing all the hours since time began and until times end? Think of asking some one the time and he would tell you it was half past, one million o'clock.

Now if we would set voluntarily, periods of readjustment, instead of having them forced upon us, the process would be no more painful than that of winding a clock. The framers of our constitution did a good job in passing a law to keep the representation in the national government equal. Had they been a little wiser, they would have written a law to keep our economical standing a little more equal, making it better for all of us.

The economic Crisis has been a crisis so long and has been solved so many times, it's hardly interesting to talk about. However, those who have about talked out on the proposition say, that there are only two ways to cure the depression, the doctor's best cure for his patient, TIME. The other way is that the government to collect and return to those who have not it, the per capita wealth of the country, and continue to do this every decade or as often as necessary.

The greatest arid feat of the century has been performed—the National budget has been balanced. This may have been very important, but more important is the balancing of family budgets. If every family's budget was balanced, the national budget would never be unbalanced. I suppose the government would have tried this, but it found so many with no budgets at all, that the benefits would not be balanced the trouble.

The "Bonus Marchers" seem bent on getting their budget balanced. The veterans should have their money, every dime of it. Any one who offers or is forced to offer his life or his country, should be paid every penny promised at once, and not dragged over a period of years. Saviors of a country walking through their land brimful of food and everything else begging for bread. Politicians do not count "marchers"; they only vote and if the marchers would remain at home, and at the polls effectively oppose those that oppose them, their bonus would be forthcoming, with interest.

The Communist Party, in a cut and dried convention in Chicago, nominated James Ford of Alabama,

Bedtime Story

Margaret of New Orleans

If ever you go to the beautiful city of New Orleans, somebody will be sure to take you down into the old business part of the city, where there are banks and shops and hotels, and show you a statue which stands in a little square here. It is the statue of a woman sitting in a low chair, with her arms around a child, who leans against her. The woman is not at all pretty; she wears thick, common shoes, a plain dress, with a little shawl, and a sun-bonnet; she is stout and short, and her face is a square chinned Irish face; but her eyes look at you like your mother's.

Now there is something very surprising about this statue: it was the first one that was ever made in this country in honor of a woman. Even in old Europe there are not many monuments to women, and most of the few are to great queens or princesses, very beautiful and very richly dressed. You see, this statue in New Orleans is not quite like anything else.

It is the statue of a woman named Margaret. Her whole name was Margaret Haughey, but no one in New Orleans remembers her by it, any more than you think of your dearest sister by her full name; she is just Margaret. This is her story, and it tells why people made a monument for her.

When Margaret was a tiny baby, her father and mother died, and she was adopted by two young people as poor and as kind as her own parents. She lived with them until she grew up. Then she married, and had a little baby of her own. But very soon, her husband died, too, and Margaret was all alone in the world. She was poor, but she was strong, and knew how to work.

All day, from morning until evening, she ironed clothes in a laundry, every day, as she worked by the window, she saw the little motherless children from the orphan asylum, near by, working and playing about. After a while, there came a great sickness upon the city, and so many mothers and fathers died that there were more orphans than the asylum could care for. They needed a good friend, now. You would hardly think, would you, that a poor woman who worked in a laundry could be much of a friend to them? But Margaret was. She went straight to the kind Sisters who had the asylum and told them she was going to give them part of her wages and was going to work for them, besides. Pretty soon she had worked so hard that she had some money saved from her wages. With this, she bought two cows and a little delivery cart. Then she carried her milk to her customers in the little cart every morning; and as she went, she begged the leftover food from hotels and rich houses, and brought it back to the hungry children in the asylum. In the very hardest times that was often all the food the children had.

A part of the money Margaret earned went every week to the asylum, and after a few years that was made very much larger and better. And Margaret was so careful and so good at business that, in spite of her giving, she bought more cows and earned more money. With this, she built a home for orphan babies; she called it her baby house.

After a time, Margaret had a chance to get a bakery, and then she became a bread-woman instead of a milk-woman. She carried the bread just as she had carried the milk, in her cart. And still, she kept giving money to the asylum. Then the great war came, our Civil War. In all the trouble and sickness and fear of that time, to give the starving soldiers, and for her babies, besides what she sold. And despite all this, she earned enough so that when the war was over she built a big steam factory for her bread. By this time everybody in the city knew her. The children all over the city loved her; the poor people all came to her for advice. She used to sit at the door of her office, in the calico gown and a little shawl and give a good word to everybody, rich or poor.

Then, by and by, one day, Margaret died. And when it was time to read her will, the people found that, with all her giving, she still had saved a great deal of money, and that she had left every cent of it to different orphan asylums of the city, each one of them was given something. Whether they were for white children or black, for Jews or Catholics, or Protestants, made no difference; for Margaret always said, "They are all

The Breakdown In Negro Leadership

By KELLY MILLER

The world is bankrupt for leadership. The world War upset the existing fabric of human order. Lenin, Mussolini and Mustapha Kamel are the only leaders of the reconstructed world who seem able to bring order out of chaos. The United States, England, France and Germany have failed to produce a single commanding leader who is able to grapple with the new order of things precipitated by this great conflict.

When we limit our horizon to the Negro group the breakdown is pathetic. Through tyranny and selfish greed both Liberia and Hayti have faded from the picture as national entities. In the field of domestic politics the race has been reduced to political nullity through the selfish ambitions, petty jealousies and venality of our political henchmen, our leaders. New opportunities are thrust upon us by virtue of the northern migration of a million Negro voters into states and communities of unrestricted franchise. Will the new leadership prove equal to the imposed task? We must await the coming of November for the answer.

Under the impact of modern science, the religious systems are weakening in their sanction over human thought and conduct. The Negro church is deeply discounted by the too frequent failure of those who have come to the high places of spiritual leadership and authority. The recent drastic action within the great A. M. E. Church has brought that denomination to the dust and ashes of humiliation within the eyes of its own membership and brought the question of religious self-leadership into serious query in the eyes of the religious world. A bishop with an itching palm is an abomination before God and man. The young, high-minded youth of the race who grasp the vast opportunity of the religious estate which must shortly fall to their hands to administer must either purify or repudiate the Negro church. Herein lies the saddest plight of all. Men whom fortune raised to the highest ranks of prelacy, instead of leading their people in simplicity, righteousness and self respect, set themselves up as potentates exhibiting the tyranny, licentiousness and unhalloved thirst for greed and power which characterized autocracy at its worst.

A few years ago, we were led to hope that the Negro would accomplish marvels by way of individual and associated business enterprises. We were boasting of the number and volume of business of our banks, insurance companies and building associations. Most of these have failed—some through unavoidable exigencies of business, orphans alike". And just think, dears, that splendid, wise will was signed with a cross instead of a name, for Margaret had never learned to read or write.

When the people of New Orleans knew that Margaret was dead, they said, "She was a mother to the motherless; she was a friend to those who had no friends; she had wisdom greater than schools can teach; we will not let her memory go from us." So they made a statue of her, just as she used to look, sitting in her own office there it stands today, in memory of the great love and the great power of plain Margaret Haughey, of New Orleans.

Peom of the Week

LOST IN A STORM

How lonesome, how lonesome the long dreary hours, though they have passed
The night was long and rainy, and all I could see was the lightning flash.
The wind was blowing, the thunder was roaring, Lost in the dark was I.
All the Company I had, was the Clouds that rush through the sky
I crept along in the dark, stumbling As though I was blind.
I came to a fir tree; it was all the shelter I could find.
Lost in the woods where the Indians watch and wait, The storm was raging and I on my path was late.
And when the falling trees no longer Crashed in warning, I went from my sheltering place, Forth in the wild wet Morning.

GRADY E. HUMBLE

while others have been victims of incompetent or dishonest management. Our fraternities and secret societies are full of ambitious leaders where selfish and ambitious leaders waste the substance of the membership to gratify their petty rivalries and insane jealousies.

In the field of education, the whites generally exercise reserve control, leaving to the Negro only subordinate authority over intimate details. Recently several of our largest educational plants have been turned over to Negro supervision and control. We stand appalled at the internal commotion and external agitation now raging around Howard University, our principal institution of higher learning and are tremulous at the outcome of this noble experiment. The Negro race, one deeply regrets to say, seems calously indifferent as to the outcome of this paramount opportunity to demonstrate capacity for self direction in this most important function.

It should not be necessary to say that this indictment is not wholesale. The preacher of passivism promotes no progress. One might go so far as to say that the majority of our leaders under the several categories do not fall under condemnation above pointed out. But we expect that in this day of enlightenment well nigh one hundred per cent of those elevated to leadership must be excellent, if not perfect. A correspondent answering my condemnation of the prelates of a great denomination, rejoined that a majority of its bishops were honest men. Great God, a majority is not enough. A grocerman would ruin his reputation among his customers by assuring them that a majority of the eggs in a basket or of the apples in a barrel are sound. Sound business calls for the approximation of one hundred per cent excellence.

All of the lines of failure above pointed out may be traced to the same cause: selfishness, tyranny, vanity, greed and petty jealousy. Will it ever be thus or must we need turn to white leadership for salvation? I rather venture the hope that the race being made fully aware of its imbecilities will purge itself of these imperfections. I would give Negro youth who find themselves in the high places of leadership and authority the advice of Hamlet to his faithless parent: "Mother, assume chestity, if you have it not." The higher education of the Negro will prove to be an utter failure unless in the next half generation it produces a class of men and women who will guide, guard and govern the race along all lines of endeavor with the requisite competence, consecration and character.

HALL OF FAME

by Eloise

This week "Hall of Fame" is pleased to tell about a woman, who for years has done something, that not many of us can appreciate as we should.

Mrs. Emma Baker, an old citizen of Indianapolis, was born in Salem, Indiana and was brought to this city, when a mere babe, one month old. She is the daughter of Wm. W. Christy and the late Mrs. Christy, old settlers of this city. After coming out of school, Mrs. Baker helped her parents in a hand laundry, which they were running at that time, until her marriage. Then she married and went in business for herself. She remained in the work for ten years, when she gave it up, and became one of the first policemen on the police force of the city. For four years, she worked out from the police headquarters and since that time has been affiliated with the Juvenile court in the Probation department.

Not many of us had the varied experience of Mrs. Baker. Many young girls and boys have been benefited and saved from the evils of delinquency through the untiring and big-hearted efforts of Mrs. Baker. Her interest in young people is far above the average and it is always her desire to save the youth of her race. Many mothers and fathers have gotten consolation; have re-gained their self-respect and have become more conscious of their duties to society through the interest and psychological effect of her interest in their cases.

Many of us do not realize just the responsibility of Mrs. Baker. Many of our youth feel she is an enemy of theirs, in that their young minds do not permit them to realize her interest as well as her far-sighted for them. "Hall of Fame," would call Mrs. Baker "The Good Samaritan." She is well liked by everyone and stands out as one of the remarkable women of the race. Her success does not happen to be that which is on the pages of the newspaper, or is it the kind that much is said about. It is the quiet kind; but after all, what counts most? That, which is actually done and not always that which is talked about.

Mrs. Baker is the sister of Mrs. Cora C. Willis, wife of the late Lucas B. Willis, undertaker and a teacher in the public schools.

Recently, a private sanatorium, the Community hospital, was opened for the colored citizens of Indianapolis at 2116 Boulevard place.
